

Module 1 Verb Review: (Past, Present, Present Continuous, and the 1st Conditional)

Directions: Read the paragraphs and write the correct verb in the blank. You will also need to use a, an or the in four to complete the sentences.

E.g.: Frances Sevilla-Sacasa is a woman from Florida whose career (be) is in banking.

Today, ^{1.)} important business woman in ^{2.)}
 United States is Frances Sevilla-Sacasa. Currently, she (work) ^{3.)} for the US Trust Bank of America. Her parents originally (come) ^{4.)} from Spain and Cuba. So, as a child, she (speak) ^{5.)} both Spanish and English. Today, however, she also (know) ^{6.)} French, Portuguese, and German.

When she was at ^{7.)} University of Miami, she (study) ^{8.)} French, Spanish, and business. Then, in 1978, she (go) ^{9.)} to Thunderbird School of Management to get her degree in Finance. Today, she is thought to be one of ^{10.)} highest-ranking and most powerful women in international banking.

Today, Frances (think)^{11.)} that women have many qualities which make them very good at banking. “Women (be)^{12.)} usually good listeners, patient, and service-oriented. They also establish a lot of relationships,” says Frances. “However,^{13.)} a person (go)^{14.)} into banking, they will have to be prepared for extra duties. This is because a good banker wants to build trust with clients and you never know when they will need you.”

In her free time, Frances usually (do)^{15.)} sports such as tennis, boating, and snow skiing. She also (enjoy)^{16.)} traveling and spending time with her husband and three children.
